SUMMARY OF KEY FINDINGS FOR PARENTS AND PUPILS

St Mary's RC Primary is a good school

- St Mary's is a good Catholic school. As soon as you enter the school it is very clear that the prime purpose is Catholic education, helping children to develop their faith to understand that God loves them. It is a welcoming place where everyone is loved and respected and the love of learning is evident in all aspects of the school.
- The Catholic Life of the school is outstanding. Governors, senior leaders and staff have high expectations and a shared vision with regard to the Catholic mission and ethos of the school. Pupils make an outstanding contribution to the Catholic Life and take a leading role in activities which promote the school's ethos within the school and wider community.
- The quality of Collective Worship is good. It is central to the life of the school, is well planned and pupils confidently use a variety of forms of prayer. It is not yet outstanding as pupils' skills need to be further developed in order to plan, prepare and lead Collective Worship independently.
- The quality of Religious Education is good. It is not yet outstanding due to inconsistencies across the school in the quality of assessment, marking and feedback.

How well pupils respond to and participate in the school's Collective Worship is good.

- Pupils demonstrate interest and engagement in Collective Worship in response to age appropriate stimuli; their singing and participation in whole school and class worship is thoughtful and reflective. The pupils are able to articulate extremely well what Collective Worship means to them.
- Pupils throughout the school are able to articulate what being part of a prayerful community means to them and enthusiastically and respectfully talk about other world faiths that they have learned about in their Religious Education lessons.
- Pupils prepare, and are beginning to lead, the prayer life at St Mary's School. They do so with enthusiasm and with increasing independence as observed during class liturgies about trust.
- Pupils are becoming more skilled in planning and leading acts of Collective Worship at age appropriate levels. They have a good knowledge of the liturgical year, religious seasons and festivals. Their developing knowledge, understanding and confidence in liturgical themes show that they are able to make links between Gospel messages and daily life.
- Pupils are confident and at ease in sharing their prayers with others.
- There is a calm and peaceful ethos which pervades the school and this is reflected in the pupils' outstanding behaviour and consideration for others.

The quality of provision for Collective Worship is good.

- There is a clear policy for Collective Worship which is central to the life of the school and makes a significant contribution to the moral and spiritual needs of the pupils. Praying together is part of the daily experience for all pupils and staff which has a positive impact on the school's sense of community.
- Focal points are evident in all classrooms providing further encouragement for independent reflection and prayer. The pupils' mission statement, 'God our Father, walk with us in our learning and in our lives' is lived out by all throughout the school and as one child said, 'It reminds me to keep shining and share my love as Jesus did'.
- Acts of worship are well resourced and age appropriate, centred on themes and messages which are easily accessible to pupils. A planned programme of liturgies, Masses and other liturgical celebrations such as the Harvest Liturgy provide many opportunities for participation from the wider school and parish community.

- Developing the spirituality of all is seen as central in supporting the Catholic ethos of the school and this ensures that the needs of all pupils are well met.
- The school welcomes families to participate in worship which is well received. Families are becoming increasingly more involved in the pupils' religious development through the seasonal travelling crib as well as the Wednesday Word Bag which goes home weekly.
- There is a great sense of community at all levels which is evident in the quality of relationships that exist between everyone; staff, governors, pupils and parents. One parent commented, 'St Mary's is a great school with a very caring staff who go beyond their duty to care for everyone'.
- Sacramental preparation is now well embedded and in line with diocesan policy. The school works effectively with the parish and together they are constantly seeking ways to increase family involvement.

How well leaders and managers promote, monitor and evaluate the provision for Collective Worship is outstanding.

- The school leaders have expert knowledge of how to plan and deliver quality liturgy and worship. They understand the Church's liturgical year and traditions and are outstanding role models to both staff and pupils. The headteacher, who is also the Religious Education coordinator, shows a real depth of passion and commitment and has a clear vision and sense of direction and understanding of what is required to bring about improvement which is shared with staff. They lead the school community to understand and appreciate these by making all forms of worship relevant to the children appropriate to their age, needs, experience and background.
- Good systems and structures are in place which allow quality Collective Worship to take place across the school.
- The headteacher ensures that all staff throughout the school receive the quality formation that they require in the development of spiritual and liturgical understanding.
- The views of pupils, staff and parents are sought through informal meetings and questionnaires and respond appropriately.
- The dedication and commitment of the senior leaders in the school are instrumental in the drive to provide high quality Collective Worship and quality prayer life throughout the school.
- Interviews with governors, the parish priest and headteacher, along with the scrutiny of both pupil, staff and parent questionnaires, reflect the importance of true partnership, evaluation and a mission to ensure the very best for all pupils at St Mary's school.

How well pupils achieve and enjoy their learning in Religious Education is good.

- Pupils start school with knowledge and skills that are in line with what is expected for their age. They make good progress across the early years foundation stage and continue to make good progress throughout key stage one, however this progress slows down in key stage two. The school is aware of the need to plan for accelerated progress for some underperforming groups.
- Outcomes for pupils are mostly good and broadly in line with diocesan averages. Evidence from book scrutiny and lesson observations show a good variety and range of learning activities with no notable differences between groups of learners.
- Most pupils enjoy Religious Education and can explain its value. They are keen to do well, apply themselves in lessons and work at a good pace. Behaviour for learning is good.
- Pupils are developing well in their knowledge and understanding. They demonstrate good prior knowledge and are able to use this well in their new learning.
- As a result of effective support staff, pupils with special educational needs and disabilities are well supported and achieve well according to their age and capacity.

The quality of teaching and assessment in Religious Education is good.

- The quality of teaching and assessment throughout the school is mostly good. Most teachers demonstrate high expectations, plan interesting lessons and set appropriate targets for pupils to achieve in their work.
- The teaching of Religious Education across the school has a high profile, meets the requirements of the Bishops' Conference and contributes very effectively to the pupils' spiritual and moral development.
- The school has an effective assessment and tracking system to monitor pupils' progress and achievement in Religious Education. Staff are becoming more confident and accurate in their assessments, however there are inconsistencies in practice.
- The quality of marking and feedback to pupils is generally good. Pupils are given clear points for improvement, however not all pupils are given the opportunities to respond to teacher comments in order to move learning forward.

- Additional adult support is used well, ensuring good progress for most pupils. Relationships between teachers and pupils are very good.

How well leaders and managers promote, monitor and evaluate the provision for Religious Education is outstanding.

- The leadership and management of Religious Education is outstanding. The newly appointed acting headteacher provides strong and highly effective leadership in Religious Education. She shares her ambitious vision for the school and for what every pupil and teacher can achieve, as well as inspiring and supporting the whole community. Alongside senior leaders she is working hard to ensure that assessment is used consistently and accurately across the whole school
- The deeply committed senior leadership team have the professional drive and religious conviction to ensure that Religious Education continues to move forward.
- Leaders carry out monitoring and analysis of teaching and learning and the school improvement plan identifies very clear steps for ongoing development.
- The link governor for Religious Education is very well informed and knowledgeable about the school's strengths and further areas for development providing appropriate challenge and support to senior leaders.
